NEWS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS — SOIL CONSERVATION — FORESTRY — LIVESTOCK

NEWS OF COUNTY FARM BUREAUS

By Byron Dyer

Later, Waters will head the Denmark Farm Bureau next year, replacing Isaac Buncie as president.

Mr. Buncie has served as president at Denmark for two years.

Bill DeLoach was named vice president to succeed Bill Zetser, and Otis Clifton secretary and treasurer to succeed Joyce Martin. Mrs. Lester Waters was named chairman of the Farm Bureau women. She replaced Mrs. Cloye Martin.

Mr. Martin announced that some 30 of the 35 members had been renewed. The group voted to give a free supper for December and Mr. Buncie, C. DeLoach, Mrs. G. R. Waters, and Mrs. Morgan Waters were named to prepare the supper.

The Southeast Bulloch High School seniors served some 175 to 200 supper at the Brooklet Farm Bureau Wednesday night.

J. H. Wyatt, their president, asked F. C. Rozier, John F. Spence, and J. Harry Lee to serve as a nominating committee and to report at the December meeting.

O. E. Gay asked that those interested in joining a farm should call on willing to contact him and a time would be set that was agreeable.

W. E. Gear, principal of the school, invited every one to the open house when the entire new building would be inspected from 7 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday night, November 8.

Miles Frank Deal praised the Bulloch county tobacco growers at the Middle Ground meeting Thursday night for the record production of 1,420 pounds per acre yield this year. This is the all-time

FORESTRY NEWS

By J. W. Roberts, County Forest Ranger Telephone 4-2042

With the pine tree planting season nearly here, Ranger J. W. Roberts, County Forest Ranger, Unit, this week listed several forest tree planting tips designed to assure the greatest percentage of survival.

"Reforestation steps in our county," the Ranger said, "will be aided greatly in the planting season through landowner's observing these rules."

1. Be prepared to accept shipment of seedlings promptly. Be prepared to plant as soon as possible after delivery.

2. Carry the shipment to the planting site without delay and "heel in" the seedlings in a cool, moist place, protected from sun and wind.

3. Do not let seedlings freeze.

4. If planting is delayed, do not neglect to water and otherwise care for "heel in" seedlings. Do not unnecessarily delay or prolong planting.

5. When ready to plant, be sure to have sufficient soil and buckets for handling and planting.

6. Keep roots of seedlings moist at all times until planted.

7. If in doubt as to spacing or if you have other planting problems, call on your Bulloch County Forestry Unit for up-to-the-minute reforestation advice. The telephone number is 4-2042.

NEW MARVELS IN U. S. AGRICULTURE

"U. S. farming has advanced so rapidly in the last 15 or 20 years that it hardly resembles agriculture as previous generations knew it," observes an article in Life.

Then the article explains what caused this: "During the farm depression of the 20s, scientists and inventors were creating marvelous new machinery, new fertilizers, new pesticides and new seeds. At the time very few farmers had the money to buy them. But when war gave farmers an unlimited market, these aids to production were pulled down off the shelf and set to work all at once. With their help and the persistence of the weather, S. farm output rose by a fantastic 33 per cent between 1928 and 1944. It has now gone down a little, but the capacity to produce, when and if the market demands more food, has kept rising."

That science describes what has happened on an actual, existing farm in the Middle West. In 1933 the present owner, and his father, had a 100-acre farm. It was a poor farm, with a few horses. They owned only $635 worth of crop machinery, along with some special equip-

FOR CONTROL OF HOG ERYSIPELAS

Isolation - Vaccination Best Combination To Combat Infection

A combination isolation and vaccination program offers the best control for swine erysipelas, one of the most serious diseases in the United States, according to a suggestion for farmers issued today by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

The Foundation recommends isolation of all newly purchased swine for a period of three weeks, during which time they should be observed closely for signs of the disease.

Erysipelas is similar to many other diseases in that it is spread by carriers—that is—animals that appear to be healthy but actually are infected. Farmers who do not raise their own pigs should buy only from herds which are known to be disease free, the Foundation says.

Gilt and sows should be properly vaccinated before breeding time in areas where erysipelas has occurred earlier. Little pigs should be vaccinated at six to eight weeks of age.

Antiserum injections and selective antibiotics offer some help in swine infected with erysipelas, providing such treatment is done early in the course of the disease. Symptoms of the acute form of erysipelas are similar to hog cholera. Animals go off feed, run high fevers and often die within a few hours.

The Foundation points out that the disease organisms that cause erysipelas can live in the ground for years. Infected lots should be worked often so the sun and air can help get rid of the germs. Feces should be moved to clean ground and pasture after an infection.

MONEY FOR KOREAN VETS

Farm Trainees Should Contact Field Offices For Assistance

Pete Wheeler, Director of the State Department of Veterans Service stated today that the recent Act of Congress providing money for Korean G. I. Bill Farm Trainees will go into effect next month.

Wheeler stated that under the new law, Public Law 260, most of the nation's 35,000 veterans taking on-the-farm training under the provisions of the Korean G. I. Bill will find more money in the G. I. pay envelopes which they receive in the month of November.

According to Wheeler, the increased allowance checks will cover training in October, the month the new law went into effect. Veterans are requested not to write to the Veterans Administration for their increase, as the increase will be automatic.

Wheeler pointed out that the new law provides that Korean G. I. Farm trainees will receive the full rate of G. I. allowances for their first year of training. Thereafter, the allowances will be reduced every four months. Previously, farm trainees received the full rate only for the first four months, after which the amounts were reduced at four-month intervals.

Wheeler stated further that veteran-farmers who will receive increases in the checks they receive in November are those also whose monthly training pay already has been reduced, under the old law.

All Korean G. I. Bill farm trainees are invited to contact the nearest field office of the Department of Veterans Service for any assistance or information concerning the G. I. Bill program.

LOCAL GIRL NAMED CHEER LEADER

Miss Martha Tinker, sophomore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tinker of Statesboro, Georgia, was chosen as an alternate cheerleader for the Georgia Teachers College basketball team. The cheerleaders were chosen by a committee made up of the athletic department and Chester Webb, team captain.

PROFESSORS TO PLAY 24 GAMES

Seven New Lettermen
On G. T. C. Squad;
13 Games At Home

Coch J. R. Scarce, Jr., this week greeted seven lettermen at the Georgia Teachers College Prof. fessors opened up practice for the 1955-1956 basketball season. The professors are set to play 24 games, 13 of them in their recently completed $325,000 gymnasium.

New opponents on the schedule are Morningstar College of Sioux City, Iowa; High Point College, N. C.; and Kentucky Wesleyan, Owensboro. Newberry College is back on the schedule after a year's absence.

The University of Mexico cancelled out this week because of the recent floods and hurricanes which made it necessary for that school to extend classes into its summer vacation, which takes place in January and February. This leaves January 18 as an open date, which Coach Scarce is currently trying to fill.

Coch Scarce is beginning his ninth year at GTC, where his teams have won 161 and lost 52, for .758.

The Professors will return the entire starting five from last year's team which won 59 and lost four. The starters from last year are: Captain Chas. Webb (6-7), Elberton; Doug Curry (6-5) Union Point; Howard (Bo) Warren (6-6) Indorville; Garland Campbell (5-11) Whittall, Ind.; and Don Walcott (5-11) Wheelwright, Ky. Reserve letter winners last year were Wesley (Buddy) Ward, Harlan, Ky., and Emory Clements, Irwinville.

Don Avery, 6-5 center transfer from Brewton Parker will strengthen the pivot position where All-American Webb holds forth. The Ball Ground native played freshman ball at GTC two years ago. Two other transfers in contention for starting roles are Bob Boyer, Bethlehem, Pa., from Norman College, and S. Ed Gibson, from Bonnetville, S. C., a transfer from Atlanta Division, University of Georgia.

Jim Harley will return to the squad at the end of the fall quarter (Dec. 15). Harley entered the army at the end of his junior year, and last March was a first team selection on the all-Third Army squad.

Georgia Teachers will participate in the Collegiate Christmas Tournament at Quantico, Virginia, on Dec. 20-22. Others entered in the tournament are Iowa College, University of Akron, LeMoyne College, Ball State, Mt. Saint Mary's, Walsh College, and the Quantico team.

Work on the gym is being completed even as the Prof's work. The swing down basket supports were completed the day before practice opened, and lockers and the four-sided scoreboard are now being installed.

The building will be the site of the District 26 NAIA playoffs, to be played on March 2-3, 1956. The winner will go to Kansas City for the national tournament, March 12 to 17. The schedule:

Religion No Reason To Refuse Shots

A parent cannot object on grounds of religion to the requirement of a local board of education that his child be vaccinated for smallpox prior to entering school, Attorney General Eugene Cook has held in an unofficial opinion requested by Supt. J. Chas. Rogers of the Coconino Public Schools.

Mr. Cook pointed out that the Georgia Court of Appeals has overruled the contention that such a requirement deprives individuals of their freedom of worship and has held that the refusal of parents to have their children vaccinated actually "amounted to a transgression on the rights of others."

"On the basis of the above authority," he ruled, "a parent cannot upon religious grounds, object to a local board of education requiring every school child to be vaccinated for smallpox prior to entering school."

Key To Protection
Insuring Benefits To Workers And Survivors

C. A. Hamilton, manager of the Savannah social security office said today that nine out of every 10 people who work for a living are paying a small part of their earnings for social security. Mr. Hamilton furnished this information to emphasize the importance of the social security account number card to the workers in this area. He went on to say, "A social security card is the key to the protection afforded by the Federal old-age and survivors insurance program under the Social Security Act."

Mr. Hamilton urged workers in this area to be guided by the following simple rules to insure the proper crediting of all their earnings to their accounts:

1. Each worker's name and number should be copied to the employer's record from the social security card itself and not from memory.

2. Notify your social security office if a change occurs in your name.

3. If you should lose your social security card, apply for a DUPLICATE immediately.

4. Check on your account with your social security office every two or three years.

Your social security office is located at Room 220, Post Office Building, Savannah, Georgia.

According to the Bible, the raven was the first bird sent out by Noah, so states the World Book Encyclopedia.

HEADQUARTERS FOR MILITARY INFORMATION

The Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Savannah and the Navy Recruiting Station in Statesboro, have jointly announced that they will conduct an information program on military obligations at the Main St. on Tuesday, November 16 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

All young men in this area that have questions about their military obligations under the new Reserve Forces Act of 1955 should visit the Recruiting Station at this time.

Occasionally a woman like Margaret Mitchell, who wrote Gone With the Wind, may go to the attic and write, but most women prefer to stay downstairs and say, "She said and he said and I said, on into the night and late into the morning."

DEPENDENTS ARE NOW ELIGIBLE

Liberalized Provisions
Provide Payments To Many Survivors

Dependent survivors of workers who died after June 1940 and before September 1950, may now apply for monthly benefits provided the deceased had worked at least a year and a half in employment covered by Social Security. C. A. Hamilton, Manager of the Savannah Social Security District Office announced recently.

Widows and dependent parents over 65, children under 18, and other dependents are eligible for benefits as dependent survivors. Many of these will start losing money in unclaimed Social Security benefits after September 30, 1955, if they fail to file for benefits before that date. Mr. Hamilton stated.

Some of these potential beneficiaries may have made inquiries or filed claims at the time of the wage earner's death. Benefits were not payable at that time as the worker did not have sufficient employment under Social Security, and the applicants were so advised.

The liberalized provisions of the Act, as amended in 1954, provide for the payment of benefits to many of these people to whom nothing was payable previously because of the law in effect at the time of the worker's death. This amendment to the Act became effective in September 1954. The benefit payments are retroactive for as much as one year; therefore, applicants who file now will receive benefits back to September 1954, but for every month a potentially entitled person delays filing after September, he will lose a month's benefits.

Claims and inquiries should be made at the local District Office of the Social Security Administration at Room 220, Post Office Building, Savannah, Georgia.

PRES. HENDERSON AT SYLVANIA C. OF C.

President Zach S. Henderson, of Georgia Teachers College, addressed the Screen City Junior Chamber of Commerce, Monday night, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m., in Sylvania.

His topic was, "The School," and he spoke at the annual meeting of the organization devoted to public school welfare. Dr. A. Lamar Blalock is the program chairman.

In some situations, to say what you think is disastrous, especially at a tiresome committee meeting.

BRIDE HONORED

Mrs. Rupert Clifton, a recent bride was honored with a luncheon shower at the Leefield community house last Wednesday afternoon, by Mrs. Neil Scott, Mrs. Cecil Scott, Mrs. Carl Scott and Mrs. Carroll Clark. The room was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, ferns and ivy, by Mrs. Carl Bragg, who also kept the registration. Mrs. Carl Scott had charge of gifts. Mrs. Carroll Clark presided over the punch table. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Cecil Scott and Mrs. Laurie Perkins, and Mrs. Neil Scott was in charge in the kitchen. Misses Walter Lou Scott and Ginny Lee did the serving. About one hundred guests were invited. Mrs. Floyd Clarke furnished piano music throughout the evening.
